

After months of big celebrations, big meals, and big wines it is nice to remember those every day bottles that bring both value and quality together. This month's wine specials reflect some of our favorite go-to value wines for the new year.

2015 Au Contraire, Chardonnay

Russian River Valley, California

Lemon blossoms grace the bouquet of this Chardonnay. With unique flavors of golden delicious apples, a subtle hint of jasmine, and aromas of brioche and toast, this wine is a must try.

2014 Pierre Henri, Muscadet Sèvre-et-Maine

Loire Valley, France

Saint-Fiacre is a village in the Muscadet region. The vineyard is rocky with 60 to 80 year old vines & the wine is absolutely perfect for the price. Lemon zest, crushed chalk, lime blossom, and Granny Smith apple aromas & flavors.

2015 Bernabeleva, Camino De Navaherreros

Madrid, Spain

A bit more tangy, racy and serious than most Grenache at this price and it's sure to please those who prefer layered nuance & energetic flavors. This vintage seems a bit darker-fruited, more open, less nervy, but still very fresh.

$16.50

2015 Averaen, Pinot Noir

Willamette Valley, Oregon

Ripe fruit with hints of candy and cherry cola. The richness that Banshee is known for is integrated into the structure that Pinot from this area is famous for. This is a balanced and lovely Pinot Noir.

$19.97

2013 Monte Zovo, Valpolicella Ripasso Superiore

Valpolicella, Italy

Elegant, vigorous and persistent! This wine is a perfect fusion of Diego Cottini's experience & creativity. It's poured onto the skins of the Amarone in January and left together for 20 days so it acquires the distinctive aromas of dried fruit, ripe fruit and jam that add body and character.

$17.50

2013 Oregon Territory, Tempranillo

Roseburg, Oregon

Spicy clove & black pepper nose leads to a depth of fruit and complex aromas. Dense layers of cherry & spice on the palate lead to a supple finish.

$18.97

2005 Anciano, Gran Reserva Tempranillo

Rioja, Spain

Black cherry fruit, spicy notes of leather and musk, tobacco, and vanilla oak. Medium to full-bodied with some finesse, concentrated red fruit compote flavors, and smooth, mellow tannins on the finish.

The Jack is your best bet when it comes to delivering a great wine for the money. Classic aromas of mint, black cherry, cassis, cacao, and barrel spice are present in spades. Delicious flavors, beautiful balance, and a long & smooth finish.

2012 Basel Cellars, Claret

Columbia Valley, Washington
